and what have you

by BOB CRAIG

Lynn Landrum in his Thinking Out Loud column in the "The Dallas Morning News" this week comes with a new approach to the Berlin problem that bears repeating. The Bone in His Throat. Berlin is the bone in Khrushchev's throat. It is strange that, in the cold-war battle of words, our spokesmen have never made the most of that. Why is Berlin embarrassing to the Soviet? To answer that question, all you have to do is to visit West Berlin first, and then go over into Soviet-controlled East Berlin.

West Berlin is a show window of industry, enterprise and freedom. East Berlin is a city of dead weariness and despair.

Khrushchev knows that perfectly well. He knows that all East Germany knows it. And as long as West Berlin exists and thrives, it is an unanswerable challenge and an unbearable mockery of the whole Soviet make-believe.

Khrushchev knows that all East Germany is silently "voting" on which economy is best for East Germans. He knows that, by the thousands, his slaves are slipping over into freedom in West Berlin. Already his slaveland is short of technicians, of physicians and scientists, of men of capacity and genius.

What we ought to reply to Khrushchev now is simple enough. We ought to couch our answer as if we were ready to show Khrushchev how to make East Berlin as prosperous and happy as West Berlin.

We ought to sympathize out loud over his embarrassment at the failure of the Soviet system to rehabilitate the land and the people of the Germans who have been under the paw of the bear for 16 years. We ought to commiserate with him because, after half a generation, the test of capitalism against communism under exhaustive competition has completely disappointed the Communist world. We ought, with dead-pan politeness, to offer to send to a summit meeting experts, both German and American, to tell him what is wrong with his great experiment and how to make East Germany thrive as West Germany has done.

We ought to remind him that, everywhere war-scarred countries have had the healing power of freedom of man and freedom of enterprise, war scars have disappeared and hope has come again into the heart of man.

We ought to challenge him to buckle down and prove to the Germans that Soviet rule is better than self-rule, that Soviet regimentation is better than free labor and free capital under a free government.

We ought to say to him that he cannot forever expect to avoid a free election of the governed to choose and to operate government. We ought to take the position that freedom is inevitable and that dictatorship is a crime against humanity.

And these things we ought to say in every language and dialect where the printed word is read or airborne voice is heard.

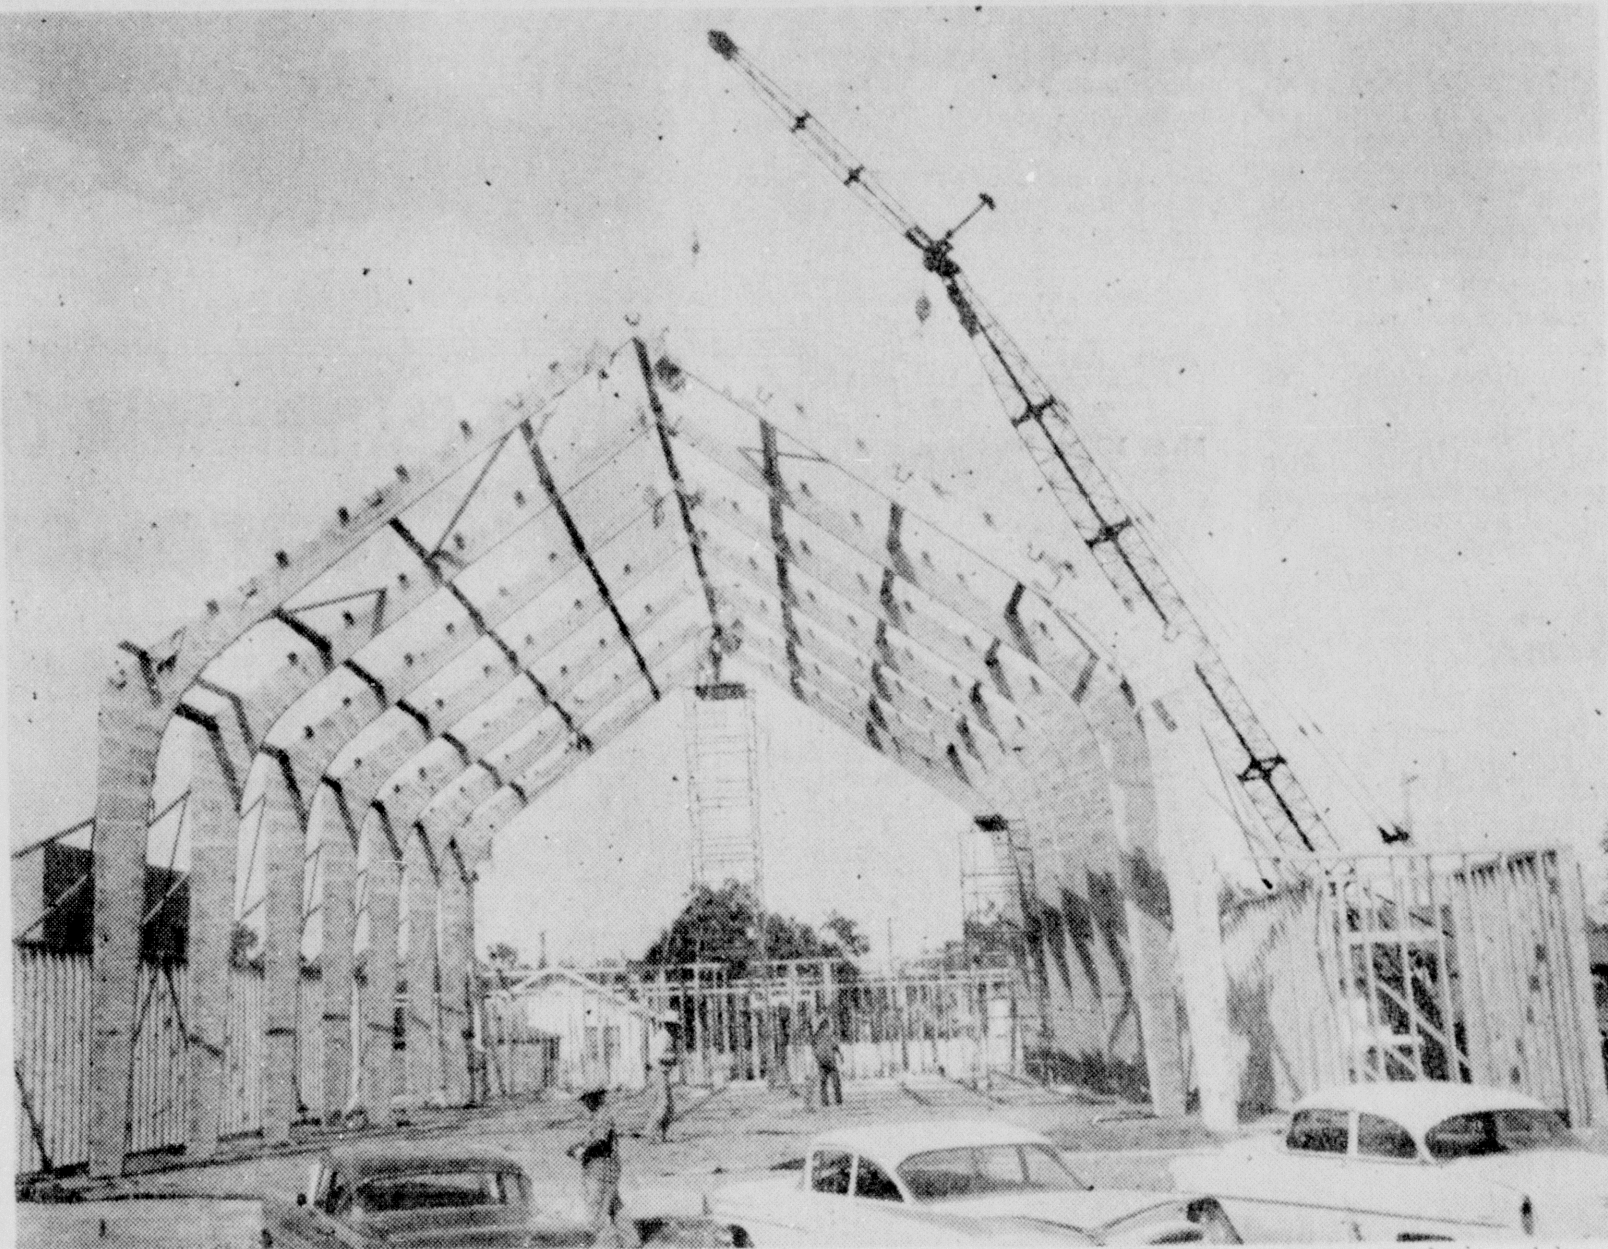

Compromise with Khrushchev is impossible because freedom is the manifest destiny of mankind.

PHONE COMPANY INTRODUCES FARM INTER-COM SYSTEM

A new farm communications system that combines regular telephone service with an inter-com system for the farm, chicken ranch or dairy farm is being introduced here, Don Fyffe, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company manager, announced today.

Known as the Farm Interphone, the system includes a master phone in the house, an extension phone in the barn, milk shed or other farm building, and a two-way long-range loudspeaker outdoors.

Additional extension phones and outdoor speakers can be added to fit the farm's individual needs.

"The Farm Interphone was specially designed to meet the needs of farms, cattle ranches, chicken ranches, and dairy farms," Fyffe said. "By making it possible to talk between various farm locations, it will save valuable time and steps for the users."

Each phone on the system has a control button to change from regular telephone service to inter-com calling between farm locations. Phones are equipped with loudspeaker-microphone units so the user can talk on the inter-com without removing the receiver from the hook.

Regular phone calls can be held on the line while the inter-com is used to talk with someone at another location on the farm.

FAIRVIEW NEWS--

By MRS. ELMER JOINER

Rain varying from two and one half inches just east of town, to over six inches in the Plainview community, fell Saturday and Sunday.

Fields are lakes of water again, and about all that are happy over the situation are the frogs, and they are really singing every night. The farmers were about to get their crops in hand, but now it will all start over again.

Prospects aren't very good for an attendance to our revival which starts next Sunday, July 16, but the Lord always knows best so maybe we will have a good revival in spite of the busy season.

Death came to our loved ones again last week. Mrs. Carl Smith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ford, was injured in a car wreck in the early morning of the 4th and passed away Thursday morning, July 6, in the Stamford Hospital. Burial was in the Stamford cemetery, Friday, 7, with Rev. Jack Southland officiating at the final rites held in the First Baptist Church of Stamford. Mrs. Smith was only 31 years of age and leaves three daughters, besides her husband, parents and the brothers and sisters. Words are an empty thing at a time like this, but all we can do is say to the Ford family that we are sorry and our love goes out to them.

The ordination services were called off Sunday afternoon, on account of the heavy rains, and will be held next Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Henry and children of Snyder, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Henry, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyal Bills returned from visiting in the plains Friday afternoon, and spent until Sunday with her parents the W. O. Grays, before returning home to Houston.

The Grays little grandson, Bruce Johnson of Amarillo, came with them to spend the week with his grand parents. Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Three big days of real picnic to begin in Hamlin July 21. Among the many attractions that has been secured is that of Lt. Ed Leggett, the flying Daredevil who will come and stay here for three days. He will give daily stunts in the airplane, hanging from the plane in mid-air by his toes, climb a swinging ladder and make parachute jumps. There will be three big ball games. Among the prominent speakers for the big picnic will be the Hon. Earl B. Maynard. The entire woods all along the lake front of the big new park will be full of fun. There will be lots of shade, plenty of water both hot and cold. One of the best Brass Bands in West Texas will be here all three days. With this and lots of other things too numerous to mention there will not be a dull moment the entire three days. . . . Day or night. Make up a party and come to help Hamlin celebrate the opening of their big city park. Just north of the Hamlin Hotel you will see a big new tent and pretty new seats and everything being shaped up ready for entertaining the public. This show is to operate in West Texas and will be known as the Ferguson Players. He will play here the entire week.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas Legislators, like students who failed to complete their work in the long term and have to come back to summer school, return to Austin this week to "get it over with."

Goal is the passage of a two-year appropriations bill expected to run around $2,600,000,000. To pay for it, they will need to find some $350,000,000 more in tax money than now provided on the law books.

But if money is short, advice is not.

At least three committees have a word or two for the lawmakers. Two are unofficial. They are the Citizens for a Sales Tax, whose name explains its purpose, and the Citizens for Fair Taxation, which is pushing Gov. Daniel's plan for additional selective sales taxes, plus more business taxes, higher taxes on alcoholic beverages and others.

A third committee, appointed by the Governor, avoided a single, specific recommendation but pinpointed some sort of retail sales tax as the most likely source for the amount of money needed. This committee is composed mainly of the chairmen of governing boards of state welfare and educational agencies.

Committee suggested that either the retail sales tax passed by the Senate last session (a "general sales tax with exemptions for food, farm supplies, medicine) or a Pennsylvania-type tax which affects only the items listed in the bill or a combination of the two might be the answer.

All of which leaves the Legislature just about where it was—with at least some support, and some opposition, for any course it might take.

NEW TOURIST ATTRACTION — Within a few weeks the tourists and school children who flock to Austin will be able to get a lesson in Texas history by visiting the most beautiful of all the buildings on the state capitol grounds.

It is the State Library and Archives Building, now nearing completion on a site directly east of the Capitol.

For many years history-minded Texans decried the fact that the priceless early documents of the state had no real home. Finally these documents were moved from a mouldy basement to a Quonset hut. There many feared for their safety.

Now, the new edifice provides the state's historic documents with a magnificent home. In addition there are quarters for the State Library and the General Land Office.

More interesting to the visitor will be the way in which Texas history is dramatized in the architectural decor in the building. On each side of the entrance are six large flagpoles. From them will fly the flags of the nations which have ruled Texas. . . . France, Spain, Mexico, the Republic of Texas, the Confederate States of America and the United States.

Embedded in the stone of the front are bright-colored mosaic shields. These also represent the same six nations.

Smaller bronze emblems decorate the heavy metal doors at the front. Across the back of the structure, even larger shields, bearing the six nations' seals in colored ceramics, are mounted on the flag of the building.

Pink granite, the "official" stone for state buildings, is carved for the entire exterior. Carved in the granite across the left front are these words:

"The People of Texas do now constitute a free, sovereign and independent republic and . . . we fearlessly and confidently commit the issue to the decision of the Supreme Arbiter of the destinies of nations." (Texas Declaration of Independence, 1836)

On the right front side is carved: "All political power is inherent in the people and all free governments are founded on their authority and instituted for their benefit." (First Constitution of Texas, 1845)

Although the building has four floors, there are seven "stack floors" where the building is divided for storage of books and documents.

One end of the main floor will be devoted to the library. There you will find a charge desk and a large reading room. Another large room will house the archives. In it there will be a large work room where researchers may look at old papers.

Land Office, to be on the third and fourth floors, will have a separate entrance at the south end of the building. (Building faces west)

First floor lobby, like the Capitol rotunda, will be a Texas showcase. In its terrazzo floor is the familiar wreath and star emblem of Texas. Main walls are polished granite and upper wall is sandstone. Above the center of the area is a huge, spectacular oval light fixture of red, white and blue colored glass in a sunburst design with a border of 50 stars.

Museum cases, recessed and lighted, are built into the walls around the lobby. Opposite the lobby entrance is a large bronze screen with 15 blocks on which are wrought designs that present a panorama of Texas development. There's an Indian with tomahawk, branding irons, dueling pistols, the first Capitol (a small frame house) an early locomotive, and a windmill on the prairie. Last block shows a gushing oil well.

Building of the State Library and Archives Building was authorized by the Legislature in 1957 with an appropriation of $2,500,000. Project has been carried through by the State Building Commission for which E. E. McAdams is chairman and Gov. Price Daniel and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson are members.

Admiral H. R. Nieman is director of the Building Commission.

State Archives Building is the fourth new edifice erected since the building program began in 1957. It is neither the largest nor the most expensive, but because of the historical designs, it is attracting the most attention. Those who have had an advance peek believe that it will, as intended, be a fitting residence for the heritage of Texas' 125 years.

TOLEDO BEND DAM STUDIED—Texas Water Development Board has given tentative approval a $15,000,000 state loan for building of a $60,000,000 Toledo Bend Dam on the Sabine River.

The dam will create the largest man-made lake in the south and supply water and power for residents of both Southeast Texas and Louisiana.

One of the first obstacles to be faced is obtaining a permit from the State Board of Water Engineers. In this, the Sabine River Authority is opposed by owners of timberland which would be flooded by the reservoir.

Louisiana will be a partner in the project, if it materializes. Louisiana voters already have approved a $15,000,000 loan to meet its share of the cost.

RATE INCREASE EXPLAINED—Texans who are irked at the prospect of an auto insurance rate increase should take note that they've had a year reprieve since the increase was indicated, says the Insurance Board chairman. Claim costs indicated that a rate increase was justified last year, says Chairman Tom Ferguson, but the Board postponed making it because the safe driving plan had just gone into effect.

In that 12-month interval, said Ferguson, drivers actually have paid $20,000,000 less in insurance premiums than cost figures show they should have. As a consequence, he said, companies absorbed a $20,000,000 deficit.

NEINDA PHILOSOPHER WORRIES, BUT ONLY A LITTLE, ABOUT REDUCED AMOUNT OF SOAP IN GIANT-SIZE BOX

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route 1 discusses soap this week. We think that's what he's doing.

Dear Editor:

What happens to food after it leaves a farmer's hands and works its way through the processors to the super-market's shelves is one of the weak links in farming, and I have long contended that where us farmers are slipping up is failing to learn how to grow beans that come up inside a cellophane bag—you can get ten times more for them that way than plain—but what interested me this week about this matter was a hearing before a Congressional committee in Washington.

A bunch of women appeared before the committee and complained that some food packagers were outsmarting them, they sell one package of soap labeled Giant-Size containing say two pounds of soap flakes, then run in some more packages alongside them also labeled Giant-Size but containing only a pound and a half, with the rest of the box empty, yet selling for the same price. In their hurry to beat somebody to the check-out counter, some women grab the wrong box without reading the fine print.

And what interested me more about this was the reason these women gave for objecting to this practice. "Such practices," they said, "weaken the reputation of the United States abroad."

I don't understand how making a bunch of women mad in the United States by selling them less soap than they think they're buying can weaken our reputation abroad, but I'm in favor of the argument, if they can make it stick.

For instance, say I have a prime Jersey steer for sale and some smart buyer offers me two cents a pound less than I ought to get and I'm forced to sell because I ran out of feed day before yesterday. It's not the money I'm losing that bothers me, it's the damage this fellow is doing to our reputation abroad.

Or take taxes. Say the government promises us $1.25 in service for every $1 we pay in taxes, and winds up delivering only 65c worth. You can see what this does to our reputation abroad.

And speaking of our reputation abroad, people are always talking about it, but you never hear anything about the people abroad worrying about their reputation here in the United States. If some Scandinavian groceryman out-smarts some Scandinavian housewife, half the time I'm not even aware of it. Scandinavia ought to do something about this.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

HAVE A FIRST GRADER THIS YEAR! START PLANNING NOW

AUSTIN—It may seem early, but school is just around the corner and parents with children entering for the first time should begin preparing right now.

The right preparation for those first school days is vital to the future satisfaction and adjustment of your child to his new environment.

If he has an older brother or sister, the task will be easier. But there are many steps for getting ready for school which should be taken before September.

Some effort should be made to make it clear to the child that he will be on his own—without Mom or Dad there to watch over him all the time—a good while before that first day of school.

Clothing should be given much thought. Check the habits of your local school and find out what is the predominant mode of dress. If all the boys wear long pants, by all means make sure your youngster has them, too.

Make sure everything is large enough, but not baggy or his classmates will make fun of him.

Proper nutrition is very important. When school starts, allow enough time in the morning for a wholesome breakfast. A good breakfast includes citrus fruit or juice, milk, whole grain cereal or bread, eggs or bacon or both.

Lunch and dinner should be leisurely and pleasant, too.

The new adventure of school is pretty fast paced, but meal-time offers an opportunity for the family to pause and enjoy being together.

Now is the time to check your school's requirements regarding vaccinations or other health measures and take care of them well in advance.

Also, many Texas school districts require proof of age for first year students in the form of a certified birth certificate.

You may obtain a copy from your local registrar, county clerk, or from the Section on Records and Statistics, Texas State Department of Health, 410 East 5th Street, Austin.

Send one dollar with the name of the child, his or her date of birth, place of birth, father's name, and mother's maiden name.

It would be good idea to get a copy of your youngster's birth record just as soon as possible to avoid the August rush. (A weekly feature of the Public Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

LOCAL BUSINESS

S. S. Talbert, Ph. D.
Chairman, Dept. of Journalism
University of Mississippi

Annual income of Americans has passed $400 billion. It is increasing rapidly.

Government economists expect family income in the United States to be more than $7,000 this year.

Liquid assets of Americans total nearly $800 billion—an all-time high. Yet, installment debts have been decreasing, according to the Department of Commerce.

In short, the American consumer has more money to spend than at any time in history. He may be confident of an even higher income in the months ahead.

In spite of this condition which should make for a new economic boom, the consumer is not rushing to the market.

Someone it appears, is not doing an adequate job of selling. Or perhaps, everyone concerned—retailers, wholesalers, manufacturers—have to re-evaluate the need for advertising in our economy of plenty.

There is a principle which seems to be well established in nations where the free enterprise system is working most effectively:

"As consumer goods and consumer wealth increases those engaged in selling are forced to budget larger and larger percentages of their overhead costs to advertising."

In other words, in a situation such as presently faces the American retailer, many merchants will find it necessary.

Opening Successful, Owner Extends Thanks to Public

The grand opening of the new Hamlin 66 Oil Company Saturday was a tremendous success according to C. R. Lovell, owner.

Despite the interruption of electrical services from 2 until 4 p.m., 175 persons purchased tanks full of gasoline and received free cartons of Coca-Cola. "Many others came by to make other purchases and some just to look at the new station," said Lovell.

Jim Gilmer, sales manager from Phillips Petroleum Company offices in Amarillo, and other company officials from various parts of the state who were here for the occasion, joined Lovell in expressing their gratitude to the local citizens who turned out in such large numbers for the open house.

McMURRY COACH TO HOLD BASKETBALL SCHOOL FOR BOYS

ABILENE—For basketball enthusiasts there's a new development at McMurry College in Abilene.

McMurry's head basketball coach, Hershel Kimbrell, has announced a basketball school for boys grades 6 through 12. It will begin July 24 and wind up on August 4.

Kimbrell and Abilene High School basketball coach Nat Gleaton will direct the new school. Kimbrell said plans are to make the school an annual affair. It will not be a boarding school the first year, but plans are to make it so by next year.

Instruction will be given boys in grades 6 through 9 at 9 a.m. daily, two hours of instruction scheduled. Class periods for boys in grades 10 through 12 will be at 6 p.m. daily, with two hours of training scheduled for them also.

Tuition will be $25, Kimbrell said.

Kimbrell said he and Gleaton were setting up the school for boys interested strictly in basketball. "Other sports are pretty well taken care of, but we need a school in this area for boys interested in basketball," Kimbrell said. Instruction will include both fundamentals and techniques of basketball.

Boys interested in the school may write Coach Kimbrell at the Athletic Office, McMurry College, in Abilene or telephone the office there.
